BROWARD SHERIFF'S OFFICE

Agency Overview

The Broward Sheriff's Office (BSO) is the chief law enforcement agency in Broward County. As one of the largest, most progressive, professional, and respected organizations in the State of Florida, BSO serves our community with law enforcement, detention, and fire rescue services in the unincorporated areas of Broward County and numerous contracted municipalities. The Sheriff's office also provides law enforcement services to the Fort Lauderdale / Hollywood International Airport, the Broward County Courthouse and Port Everglades. In addition, the agency manages 9-1-1 dispatch services for BSO and several local law enforcement agencies. All the agency's vast resources are available to any municipality within Broward County.

Founded in 1915, Broward County has grown from 4,700 residents to become the second most populous county in Florida (over 1.9 million residents) and is the seventh largest in area size at 1,224.7 square miles. With Fort Lauderdale serving as the county seat, Broward County is an international tourist destination and hub. Home to Port Everglades, one of the top three cruise ports in the world, and to Everglades National Park, a federally protected subtropical natural wetland shared with four other counties.

The Broward Sheriff's Office operates the 13th largest local jail system in the United States. It is one of the largest to have earned national accreditation from the Commission on Accreditation for Corrections. The Department of Detention and Community Programs (DDCP) oversees all jail facility operations and community-based offender programs within Broward County. Annually, approximately 30,000 inmates crossing every ethnic, age, and socioeconomic group are booked into BSO's jail for crimes ranging from civil infractions to capital crimes. In addition, many inmates arrive with drug or alcohol addictions, mental health problems, or both, requiring BSO to administer a range of medical and rehabilitative programs.

The Prison Rape Elimination Act (PREA) was established in 2003 by President George W. Bush with unanimous support from both parties in Congress. The purpose of the act was to “provide for the analysis of the incidence and effects of prison rape in Federal, State, and local institutions. The information gathered provides resources, recommendations, and funding to protect individuals from prison rape.” (Prison Rape Elimination Act, 2003.) In addition to creating a mandate for significant research from the Bureau of Justice Statistics and the National Institute of Justice, PREA funding through the Bureau of Justice Assistance and the National Institute of Corrections supports major efforts in many states correctional, juvenile detention, community corrections, and jail systems.

The act also created the National Prison Rape Elimination Commission and charged it with developing draft standards for the elimination of prison rape. These standards were published in June 2009 and were turned over to the Department of Justice (DOJ) for review and passage as a final rule. The final PREA Standards were published by the DOJ and became effective on August 20, 2012.

In 2010, the Bureau of Justice Assistance funded the National PREA Resource Center to continue to provide federally funded training and technical assistance to states and localities, as well as to serve as a single-stop resource for leading research, providing tools for all those in the field working to come into compliance with the federal standards.

BROWARD SHERIFF'S OFFICE AND PREA

The Broward Sheriff's Office, Department of Detention, achieved PREA compliance certification in April of 2018. BSO has a "ZERO TOLERANCE" policy for incidents involving sexual harassment or sexual abuse within any of the detention facilities it operates.

In order to adhere to the Federal PREA compliance standards, BSO has made the following provisions:

- A detailed policy outlining procedures, documentation, investigations, evidence collection, risk assessment, appropriate housing guidelines, medical/mental health care, and follow-up care for all alleged incidents.
- Detention staff are provided continual PREA training annually by virtue of training classes, roll call training, and published training bulletins.
- Through inmate orientation and issued Handbooks, inmates are educated on warning signs of PREA to include prevention, detection, and guidelines for reporting a PREA complaint. Furthermore, PREA reporting directive posters are displayed throughout all detention facilities providing information and phone numbers for help.
- BSO has partnered with Nancy J. Cotterman rape crisis center to provide Sexual Assault Nurse Examiners (S-A-N-E), for victim examinations and advocacy services for inmates requesting services. All jail facilities have designated areas for conducting on-site SANE exams, providing a more secure environment for staff and detainees.
- The Detention Facilities were fitted with additional cameras to decrease vulnerable areas and modifications were made to the shower facilities to mitigate incidents of sexual abuse, while still allowing a degree of privacy.

ONGOING EFFORTS

The Broward Sheriff's Office, Department of Detention is committed to ensuring inmates are not victimized by other inmates or staff during their incarceration. Additionally, our agency is dedicated to eliminating sexual abuse and harassment in all of our correctional facilities. In 2024, our agency hosted the American Jail Association (AJA) conference at the Ft. Lauderdale Convention Center. This event focused exclusively on local jails and detention facilities and access to emerging jail technologies. This conference provided our staff with the opportunity to engage in professional development and network opportunities. In addition, numerous PREA Compliance Team members attended the 6th Annual PREA Coordinator's Conference hosted by the National PREA Coordinator's Working Group in Buffalo, NY. Last fall, several PREA team members attended the American Correctional Association (ACA) 154th Congress of Correction Conference hosted by the American Correctional Association in Nashville, TN. Attendance to these conferences and other trainings solidifies the agency's commitment to PREA and allows BSO to stay relevant with best practices, while establishing networking relationships with top PREA professionals from the PREA Resource Center and others around the country. The agency will continue to pursue grant opportunities that will allow for upgrades to our surveillance technology, enhanced education for inmates and training for staff, and other initiatives that would otherwise not be possible through existing funds.
